The welcome news of a decided swell in the river at Pittsburgh has been received. There was a rise of four feet at Brownsville, on the Monongahela River, and more or less rain has fallen all through the Ohio Valley. While a great rise will not result, the swell will be sufficient to guarantee good water for packets for some time. The rise comes at a most opportune time, as the river at the upper end was getting too low for good floating. Passenger business is now very heavy, and continued navigation means many dollars to the transportation com-

Captain James T Campbell, master of the steamer Bonauza, has filed charges before United States Steamboat Inspectors Dameron and Fearu against the pilot of the steamer Queen City, claiming that the Queen City crowded upon the course of the Bonanza Saturday morning, July 31st, between Chilo and Bradford Bar. The case is somewhat complicated, but grows out of the rivalry between the two boats as to speed. The Queen City whistled to pass the Bonanza, and in passing her the suction from the Queen City drew the Bonanza to the Queen City and the head of the Bonanza touched the Queen City forward of the engine-room door. In this position with both boats running ahead full speed, the Bonanza These are only a few of our prices. All deflected the Queen City from her course was over. The Inspectors will probably
